LAND OFFICE BUREAU.

The resume of the work of this Bureau for the year ending November 30, 1898, given herewith, shows the amount of work done. It is a satisfaction to know that so much has been accomplished in the way of permanent work imposed by law upon the Department. The transient work, so far as it relates to the making of connected drafts, certified copies of applications, warrants, surveys, patents and other records, probably has not been so great as in some previous years, but the permanent work authorized by the act of 1833 has been advanced to an extent never before equalled in the history of the Department. The details of the work of the several Bureaus or heads is submitted herewith.

Board of Property.

No branch of the State government has more intricate questions to solve than the Board of Property in the issues pending on rights, under-warrants and contests which are made by applicants for vacant land. The rules of law that have been laid down by the Supreme Court during more than a hundred years of practice are, of course, the guide to members of the Board in adjusting differences between land owners as to boundary lines and also as to questions which arise between those who have older rights from the Commonwealth and those who have recently applied for warrants. The rule of law as to location, which provided for the marks upon the ground as the first evidence to be considered, seems to be going through a process of modification. The farther we get from the time when the axeman, with the surveyor, went upon the ground and marked the limits of surveys upon the living trees, the more difficulty there is encountered in applying the first rule of location that "marks upon the ground shall control the limits of the survey." This is apparent, as the forests are rapidly disappearing and the marks that were made 100 or 150 years ago are fast being obliterated. It is difficult therefore in many cases to ascertain where the lines were established in original surveys.

The second rule of location, that of calls for adjoiners, is more frequently resorted to than in former years. This is a necessity, owing to the difficulty, and in many cases the impossibility of finding any of the original marks of the survey when the work was done upon the ground. Here, too, are many difficulties encountered because in many cases it is impossible to find even the marks of adjoining surveys. Therefore the third rule is frequently resorted to; that is, where no marks can be found upon the ground, and it is impossible to locate the tract by calls for adjoiners, the location must be determined by courses and distances as called for in the terms of the survey. There are some cases where none of these three rules will enable the Board of Property, or even the courts having charge of the cases, to locate satisfactorily tracts of land that have been returned into the land office. If there are no marks upon the ground, no calls for adjoiners that can be answered, and there is no starting point as a common corner of the proper age to locate the tract by courses and distances, it is seen at once that none of the rules referred to will solve the problem of location. When applications are made for alleged vacant land, when caveats are filed against the granting of warrants, it is seen from what has been said that there are difficult questions to be solved by the Board of Property. Several such applications have been considered by the Board during the year covered by this report, and a large number of cases have been considered as a result of applications made pursuant to the act of 1897, which provided for the granting of warrants and patents for portions of the beds of the navigable rivers or strips of land between low water mark and adjoining land owners. In nearly all of the cases passed upon by the Board, under the act of 1897, warrants have been refused. This act does not seem to have been in harmony with public policy, for its existence during less than two years has resulted in much contention, and if numerous warrants were to be granted by virtue of its ambiguous provisions, it would be difficult to predict how many cases of ejectment or other processes at law would burden the courts of the Commonwealth as a result. If there is any necessity for the existence of a law authorizing the granting of warrants and patents for the beds of navigable rivers, or strips of land along such rivers between low water mark and adjoining land owners, it would be eminently better to have the present law repealed and a bill introduced into the next Legislature couched in language that will clearly express what powers are conferred and what rights are given under its provisions. In most of the counties of the Commonwealth land titles have been settled and ejectment cases are rapidly disappearing from our courts. There should not therefore be any legislation that would disturb titles or lead to extensive litigation.

COPYING OF RECORDS.

During the year, 7,148 old surveys of the common size were copied, the copies were bound in book form and the surveys filed away in envelopes, in the most secure manner possible. There were copied also 748 surveys referring to the Seventeen Certified Townships of Luzerne county. These latter surveys are about double the size of the other surveys and are much more difficult to copy. In the new warrant registers, in which are contained the indices of warrants that have been granted since the creation of the Commonwealth, 10,550 entries have been made during the year. The new books provide for the number of the warrant applied for, the name of the warrantee, the description of the warrant, the quantity of land applied for, the date of the warrant, the date of the return of the survey made by the deputy of county surveyor, the number of acres returned in the survey, the name of the patentee, the volume, the number of the volume and the page where the patent is recorded, and when the survey has been copied under the provisions of the act of 1833, the entry is made of the volume in which the copy is made, and the number of the volume and the page. In the last three or four years more has been accomplished in the way of executing the provisions of the act of 1833, with reference to copying old records, than was done in all the previous years since the passage of the act. This has been accomplished to a considerable extent by having two additional draftsmen added to the force of the Department, and making draftsmen of some of the clerical force. There are now seven clerks employed almost constantly at the work of drafting or copying old records. The work requires careful attention, and it is believed that it is being done as well as possible. Every record when made is carefully compared with the original paper by two competent compare clerks. This is done before the certification is made as to its being a correct copy of the original. In copying surveys no attempt is made to imitate the handwriting in the original, but an effort is made to reproduce every item of information the original contains. If a word is misspelled, it is so written in the copy and is underscored with red ink. If any other errors are apparent in the survey, they are also indicated in the copy. This treatment of surveys, when copies are made, is also adhered to in making copies for the transient work of the Department, that is when requests are received for certified copies of the original papers. In several instances the copies made called forth criticism because they contained misspelled words or other apparent mistakes, but upon explanation of the rule governing this work, the persons making the complaint have been entirely satisfied. When the work was first undertaken many years ago of copying these records, it was not done as carefully as it should have been. In several instances mistakes were made in copying surveys. The streams indicated on the original surveys were not reproduced in the copies as crossing the lines of the boundaries of the tracts as they should have been. A more serious mistake was made sometimes in calling for a corner different from what was intended in the original. When it is considered that land titles throughout the entire Commonwealth depend largely upon the original survey which the deputy made and returned to this Department, the importance of correctness in copying the original for the guidance of courts and for the information of land owners is recognized. For the paper returned by the deputy as a survey of a tract is strong and in many cases the only evidence of what the surveyor did when he was executing his warrant on the ground. Realizing fully the necessity of accuracy, the Department is exercising the utmost care in executing this work.

LIENS OF THE COMMONWEALTH AGAINST UNPATENTED LANDS.

In the report for last year a concise statement was made of the laws referring to the collecting of the purchase money, interest and fees due the Commonwealth on account of unpatented lands. Considerable disturbance was created in two or three of the counties by reason of the effort made by this Department, under the provision of the act of 1897, to collect the amounts due the Commonwealth and which should have been paid long ago. As it is probable that this matter will receive some attention from the next session of the Legislature, the article published in last year's report is reproduced herein for the information of the Legislature and the public generally.

For many years before the Land Lien Dockets of the Department of Internal Affairs were prepared under the enactments of 1864 and 1868, the attention of the officials, charged with the duties pertaining to the land office, was directed to the large number of unsettled claims that appeared upon the books of the office against unpatented lands for which office rights had been granted under the various systems for disposing of vacant lands that prevailed, at different periods of time, under the governments both of the Proprietaries and the Commonwealth. In many instances these unsettled and unpaid balances were found to be comparatively small; in many others they amounted to considerable sums of money, while there are many cases in which lands have been held by warrant and survey under the Proprietaries, from 1733 to the present time, for which no credits can be found on the books. In these cases the amounts now due, including purchase money, interest and fees, appear to be large, considering the prices at which the lands were sold at the time of purchase. Two other classes of liens arise: First, from the application system of the Proprietaries in force during the years 1765-66-67-68 and 69; and, second, from the "actual settlement and improvement" provision of that part of the act of 1792 relating to the unappropriated lands, in the purchase of 1784, lying north and west of the Ohio and Allegheny rivers and Conewango Creek. By the application system warrants were not granted, and to secure a right under it, the applicant was simply required to enter an application descriptive of the land he wished to purchase, and of its location. The application was not to exceed 300 acres, and when received was numbered and entered in a book kept for that purpose, whereupon the Surveyor General was required, "with all possible despatch," to send a transcript of the same to the Deputy Surveyor of the county in which the land was located, who in turn, was required to make and return a survey within six months after the date of the application. The order instituting this system of granting lands provided that the purchase money in full, at the rate of five pounds sterling for 100 acres, should be paid within six months after the return of the survey; but the limitation for payment thus fixed in the order was subsequently extended a number of times, and was never enforced against any one. It may, however, be said that, although purchasers were thus permitted to pay when they pleased, many thousands of acres of lands, the original office rights to which were acquired under this system, were paid for in full, and titles for them completed by the granting of patents to the owners. While this is true, it is also a fact that there yet remain on the books a considerable number of tracts of this description for which settlements have never been made, for which no money has ever been paid, and against which liens have been entered. What is here said in reference to the application system applies in many respects to rights acquired by actual settlement and improvement under the act of 1792. To obtain a preemption right under that act it was only necessary for the settler to request the Deputy Surveyor of the district in which he lived to survey and mark out the lines of his settlement—not to exceed 400 acres—and make return of the survey to the land office. Pre-payment of the purchase money was not required, though many persons holding preemption rights by actual settlements promptly paid for their lands and received their patents. Payments have continued to be made on such tracts; but many still remain unpaid, and against them liens have also been entered as required by the law. Another class of liens found on the dockets against unpatented lands comes from the difference between the quantity of land for which the warrant was granted, and for which the Commonwealth received pay, and the excess quantity returned in the survey, which remains unpaid. By the act of April 1, 1784, for the opening of the land office under the Commonwealth, warrants for lands at that time purchased from the Indians were limited in quantity to 400 acres each, while within that part of the purchase of 1784 lying east of the Allegheny river and Conewango Creek the limit fixed by the act of December 21, 1784, was 1,000 acres each. In each case payment was made by the applicant for the number of acres specified in the warrant, but Deputy Surveyors were then permitted, under instructions from the land office, to return an excess of land over the quantity called for in the warrant, not to exceed ten per cent., so that a survey returned on a 400 acre warrant might contain 440 acres, and, in like manner, on a 1,000 acre warrant, 1,100 acres might be returned. The unpaid balances due on these excess surveys are generally small in amount, yet in a tract containing an excess of 30, 40 or 100 acres, with added interest, while not reaching a large sum even now, amounts to as much as the original cost of the 400 acres or the 1,000 acres for which the applicant paid at the time the warrant was granted. In this connection it may be said that these unpaid balances nearly all arise from the sales of lands made by the Commonwealth during the years 1791 to and including 1794—years noted in the history of Pennsylvania for the magnitude of its land sales—and they now constitute the largest number of liens entered in the dockets.

The Commonwealth, in its dealings with the purchasers of its lands, and with actual settlers upon its lands, has always pursued an exceedingly liberal policy, both in the low price at which lands were sold, and in providing by legislation easy terms by which title to lands could be completed by persons unable to pay in full for their purchases. As early as the fourth of April, 1805, an act was passed by the Legislature, entitled "An act to encourage the patenting of lands, and for other purposes," in which it was provided in the first section that the Receiver General, an officer then connected with the land office, was authorized to settle the accounts of all persons indebted for lands who should apply within three years, and, on paying the usual office fees, and executing a mortgage to the Governor to secure the payment of the aggregate of the arrearage of purchase money and interest found to be due in ten equal annual instalments, such persons should receive patents for their lands. Following this act, on the first day of March, 1811, an act of a similar character was passed to authorize the Secretary of the Land Office to grant patents to actual settlers upon lands, who had complied with the requirements of the acts of 1792 and 1794, and who should apply within two years and execute a like mortgage to secure the payment of purchase money and interest—the payments also to be made in ten annual instalments. The first of these acts, or acts of similar character, continued in force until the year 1830, and the second, by re-enactments, until the year 1836; while in a manner that differed somewhat from the requirements of these acts, the Connecticut claimants of lands in the seventeen certified townships of Luzerne county were permitted to obtain patents under an act passed the fourth day of April, 1805. Under this act a claimant, who desired his land to remain as a security for the payment of such amount as might be due the Commonwealth, could receive a patent without incurring the expense of executing a mortgage, by expressing his desire in writing to the Secretary of the Land Office, who was authorized to grant the patent. The amount of purchase money was to be certified in the patent and remain a lien, "in the nature of a mortgage," on the land described therein until paid. The liens so held by the Commonwealth were, of course, to be entered of record, and the records show a number of such liens which remain yet unpaid.

In 1820 an act, somewhat stringent in character, was passed for the purpose of enforcing the collection of arrearages due on lands held by locations and other office rights granted by the Proprietary government; but, so far as the records of the office show, little was ever accomplished under its provisions. Again, in 1835, an act was passed to graduate the value of lands on which money was due, with a view, more especially, to regulate the interest charges. Up to that time in making settlement a uniform rate of six per cent. was charged on all arrearages without regard to the value of the land, or the price at which it had been purchased. The act of 1835 provided that the county commissioners of each county should be a board of appraisers, whose duty it was made to appraise at a cash value, exclusive of buildings, all lands on which purchase money was due the Commonwealth, if desired to do so by the owner or owners thereof. The valuations were to be limited to four rates, numbered one, two, three and four—the first rate to consist of land valued at ten dollars an acre and upwards; the second rate, of land valued at more than seven and less than ten dollars an acre; the third rate, of land valued at more than four and not more than seven dollars an acre, and the fourth rate, of land valued at four dollars or less an acre. With the original purchase money, the interest charge on land rated number one was to be at the rate of six per centum; number two, four and one-half per centum; number three, three per centum, and number four, the original purchase money without interest. The intent of this act was to facilitate and encourage settlements, but in that respect it seems, in a great measure, to have been a failure, although it was continued in force until 1864, when it was permitted to expire by limitation. The records prove that its provisions were very loosely complied with, and that considerable loss resulted to the State from the careless and indifferent manner in which its requirements were observed. The Surveyor General in his annual report of 1863, says of the act, "my predecessors for the last twenty years have, in their annual reports, recorded their conviction that the graduating act of 1835 has not produced the results its framers expected from it." The rates of interest were found to act unjustly in not making any distinction in the prices at which the lands were originally bought, thus giving a purchaser who was to pay the lowest price at which lands were ever sold, the same benefit as others who might have agreed to pay as much as eighty cents an acre. To remedy the inequality of interest charges growing out of the provisions of this unwise law, an act was passed in 1858, regulating the charges of interest on money due the Commonwealth for lands, as follows: "On all lands where the original purchase money is twenty pounds (fifty-three dollars and thirty-three and one-third cents) per hundred acres, one per cent. per annum; on lands issued at the rate of fifteen pounds ten shillings, (forty-one dollars and thirty-three and one-third cents), two per cent. per annum; on lands issued at the rate of ten pounds (twenty-six dollars and sixty-six and two-thirds cents), and nine pounds (twenty-four dollars), three per cent. per annum; on lands issued at the rate of five pounds sterling (twenty-two dollars and twenty-two and one-fourth cents), and that issued at the rate of twenty dollars, three and one-half per cent. per annum; on land issued at the rate of five pounds (thirteen dollars and thirty-three and one-third cents), four per cent. per annum; on lands issued at the rate of fifty shillings (six dollars and sixty-six and two third cents), six per cent. per annum; no interest to be charged on lands issued at eighty cents per acre." This act also provided that Connecticut claimants within the seventeen certified townships of Luzerne, now in the counties of Luzerne, Lackawanna, Wyoming and Bradford, classed by the commissioners as numbers one, two and three, should pay two per cent. per annum; land classed as number four, six per cent. per annum; that the in-lots, outlets and reserve tracts of the towns of Beaver, Erie, Waterford, Franklin and Warren should pay two per cent. per annum from the date of sale, and that no interest whatever should be charged for the time which elapsed between the second day of December, 1776, and the second day of December, 1783. The results produced by this act did not in any perceptible degree improve the conditions that existed previous to its enactment, though the rates of interest to be charged under its provisions have never been changed, and have ever since been observed by the land office in making settlements for all moneys due on unpaid land accounts.

The attention of the Legislature, time and again, had been called to the fact that a very large amount of money was due from the owners of unpatented lands, and that justice to the Commonwealth, as well as the interest of land owners, imperatively demanded that a law more effective in its provisions to promote, or, if need be, to compel settlements, should be devised than any of the previous enactments placed on the statute books for that purpose. Governor Curtin, in his annual message of 1863, referred to these unsettled land claims in earnest and emphatic language, and recommended to the Legislature the adoption of energetic measures for their collection. He said: "Very large sums are due the Commonwealth for unpatented lands. Forbearance, clemency and liberality have been in vain tried in numerous attempts to procure the payment of at least a part of this debt, from the larger portion of those who are indebted on that account. The continuance of this state of affairs is unjust to the Commonwealth, and to the vast majority of her people who have honestly paid for their lands. It has become unendurable. I recommend that the Legislature provide that the Surveyor General shall file of record, in the court of common pleas of each county, a description of the lands subject to the lien of the Commonwealth for purchase money, and a statement of the amount of principal and interest now due the Commonwealth, together with the patent fees on each tract, and ten per cent. on the amount so due for the labor and cost of making and filing each statement; and the aggregate amount thus stated, for each tract, shall be held to be the amount now due thereon to the Commonwealth, which shall bear interest at the rate of twelve per centum per annum, till paid, and shall continue to be a first lien on the land, till paid, and shall not be diverted by any judicial or other sale whatever. I also recommend the adoption of a suggestion contained in the Surveyor General's report, that a specific tax be laid on all unpatented lands." As a result of the representations of the Surveyor General and the recommendations of the Governor, the Legislature, in 1864, passed the act entitled "An act directing the entry of liens for the principal and interest due the Commonwealth for lands held by virtue of locations and other office titles." This act became a law on the 20th of May, 1864. It provided that the Surveyor General should prepare a list of all unpatented lands, designating the counties in which such were located, and containing such other descriptions as the records of the office would enable him to give. The lists, when completed, were then to be transmitted to the prothonotary of each county in which such unpatented land were found to be located, to be by that officer entered in a docket to be provided for that purpose. It was made the duty of the Surveyor General to calculate the amount of purchase money, interest and fees on each unpatented tract, which amount with an additional fee of five dollars, was to constitute an aggregate sum, which, after being entered on the lien docket, was to bear interest at the rate of six per centum per annum. The act contained a number of other provisions, which for the purpose of this statement, need not here be repeated. It is a fact deserving of attention, however, that the immediat effect of the recommendation of the Governor, and the legislation that followed, was to cause a very large increase in the business and receipts of the Surveyor General's office for the year ending November 30, 1864, as compared with previous years. The receipts of the office for purchase money, interest and fees, exclusive of copying fees, during the seven years immediately preceding 1864, were $90,371.14, or a yearly average of $12,902.45. The largest amount received in any one of these years was in 1857 ($21,553.59), and the smallest in the year 1862 ($5,230.61). For the year 1864, the receipts were $90,087.95, nearly as much as for the seven previous years combined. During the same year 2,178 patents were paid for as against 1,600 for the previous years mentioned. Referring to the increase of business and receipts thus shown, the Surveyor General, in his report to the Governor, for 1864, says: "There can be no doubt that the recommendations made in your Excellency's last annual message, and the action of the Legislature thereon, were the main causes of the increase," and he continues: "I am of opinion that the receipts might be still further augmented by the application of a gentle pressure in the shape of a light increase of taxation on unpatented lands to parties in arrears." The preparation of the liens provided for in the act of 1864 involved time and a great amount of labor in making the necessary examinations of the thousands upon thousands of accounts contained in the land office books. It was also necessary to observe great care in making the calculations of interest in order to insure accuracy, a work that likewise involved time and labor. The work of preparing the liens was begun soon after the act became a law, and was prosecuted as rapidly as possible until the end of the year 1867, at which time the accounts were nearly completed, and the lists about ready for transmission to the prothonotaries of the counties. In the meantime, it was thought by the officials that the act of 1864 was defective in only providing that the liens to be entered should embrace unpatented lands held under office rights, whereas considerable amounts were known to be due on patented lands for which, under laws heretofore mentioned, mortgages had been executed and special liens entered that remained unsatisfied. It was recommended, at the same time, that instead of the descriptive lists contemplated by the act of 1864 to be entered in books by the prothonotaries, it would be better, for the purpose of securing greater uniformity in the records, to prepare "Lien Dockets" in the land office for distribution to the counties. The changes in the law thus recommended were made by the supplementary act of April 4, 1868, amending the act of 1864, the first section of which enacts "that in lieu of the descriptive lists provided for in said act (act of 1864) it shall be the duty of the Surveyor General to make out and forward to the prothonotaries of the several counties, lien dockets, to be styled 'Land Lien Dockets,' containing lists of all unpatented lands, situate in the counties respectively, upon which there is money due the Commonwealth, and in all cases where surveys have been returned to enter therein the amount of purchase money, interest and fees due, and said aggregate shall remain a lien on such tract until paid or otherwise legally discharged." The second section repealed the fifth section of the act of 1864, which provided for the publication of the lists, and all parts of the act inconsistent with the new enactment. There has recently been, in some parts of the State considerable discussion—discussion, too, not entirely free from misrepresentation—in relation to the land liens of Pennsylvania, in which reference has often been made to the supplementary act of 1868, and inasmuch as that act, as already shown, was passed at the instance of the land officers, it may not be improper to show that there was entire unanimity of opinion in the Legislature in accepting the views and recommendations of those officials, and that the act was passed under suspension of the rules, without a dissenting vote in either house. In the Journal of the Senate, March 20, 1868, on page 687, it will be seen that "Mr. White read in his place and presented to the Chair a bill, entitled 'A supplement to an act directing the entry of liens for the principal and interest due the Commonwealth for lands held by virtue of location or other office titles, approved the 20th day of May, A. D. 1864.'" On the same day, page 698, the Journal reads:

"On motion of Mr. White and Mr. Shoemaker, the Committee on Judiciary (General) was discharged from the further consideration of bill, entitled 'A supplement to an act directing the entry of liens for the principal and interest due the Commonwealth for lands held by locations or other titles, approved the 20th day of May, A. D. 1864.' And the rules having been dispensed with, said bill (Senate file, No. 1,254) was read a second and third time and passed." It was immediately ordered that the bill be sent to the House of Representatives for concurrence. The bill appeared in the House on the 23d of March, and was passed by that body, under a like suspension of the rules, on the 2d day of April (see House Journal, pages 815 and 1,000), and with the approval of the Governor, became a law two days later. At no stage of the proceedings in either House was there a call of the yeas and nays on the bill.

It was fortunate that the examinations and calculations for the descriptive lists were so nearly completed when the supplementary act of 1868, providing for the dockets in lieu of descriptive lists, was passed. A docket of proper size, with uniform paging and ruling for each county was immediately procured and the work of transcribing the lists begun. In addition to the county dockets, the lists were transcribed into four large volumes to remain in the office, in which the entries are made by counties, with the list of each county alphabetically arranged. It was a little more than one year before any of the county dockets were ready to be transmitted to the prothonotaries, but all were completed and sent out during the year 1869—the first on the 6th of May and the last on the 27th of November—and that the public might be duly informed of such transmission, the Surveyor General was directed, by an act passed the 8th day of April, 1869, to give notice of the same in one English newspaper published at the county seat, and in one German newspaper if one was published in the county. By the act of 1864, the Attorney General was authorized at any time after the first of November of that year to proceed against the liens entered in the lists that remain unpaid at that date, but as the lists were not then completed this provision of the act remained a dead letter, and by a subsequent act, passed in 1871, the Board of Property, consisting of the Attorney General, the Secretary of the Commonwealth and the Secretary of Internal Affairs, was given full discretionary powers to fix the time of entering suits to enforce collections. There had never been the slightest disposition shown by the officials of the land office to deal harshly or oppressively with citizens occupying lands for which arrears of purchase money were due, and after the financial disturbances of 1873 came upon the country, it was deemed inadvisable by the Board, in view of the prevailing stringency of the times, to cause suits to be entered as provided for in the act, lest distress or hardship might come to some persons, ill able to bear such pressure, whose possessions happened to be encumbered with Commonwealth liens. In relation to this determination of the Board, the Secretary of Internal Affairs, in his annual report for 1875, says: "The Board of Property, in view of the situation, have deferred, for the present, the exercise of their power to cause suits to be brought against the delinquents, in the hope that the owners of these lands may, at an early day, discharge the liens against them, and thus avoid the additional and heavy costs that would become a necessary incident in enforcing the law for the recovery of the just dues of the Commonwealth." No change has since been made in the policy of leniency that then, under unusual conditions, influenced the action of the Board, and unpaid liens remain on the dockets to-day just as they were written in 1869, saving of course those which have since been paid.

As an outcome of the recommendations of the Surveyor General and the Governor and the enactment of the law of 1864, it has been seen how largely the business and receipts of the land office were increased by settlements made for unpatented lands. It may be well, therefore, to show the results that followed in succeeding years under that act and the subsequent acts. The receipts of the office for the year 1864, exclusive of copying fees, as before stated, were $90,317.14, almost as large an amount as had been received by the office during the previous seven years. This was a very gratifying result to follow so soon after the act of 1864 became a law, and before any lists had been prepared, and it encouraged the belief that in no great number of years the entire indebtedness due the Commonwealth on unpatented lands could, at that rate of settlement, be paid. Unfortunately, however, it must be said that the encouraging exhibit of 1864 was not to be equalled by the results of the years immediately following and including the year 1869, when the land lien dockets were sent out. In fact there was a pronounced falling off in the amounts received, though the aggregate for the five years, 1865, 1866, 1867, 1868 and 1869 was $126,828.11, or a yearly average of more than $25,000. The year 1870, following the transmission of the dockets to the counties, again shows a very large increase in the receipts of the office, amounting for the year to the sum of $139,845.39, a larger sum it will be observed, than the aggregate for the previous five years. The same decrease that followed the large increase of 1864, was experienced after 1870. For the year 1871, the records show the amount to have been $48,212.11; for 1872, $45,724.73; for 1873, $53,035.48; for 1874, $32,698.18. In the eleven years, beginning with 1864 and ending with 1874, the amount paid into the State Treasury as the receipts of the office for purchase money and fees, exclusive of copying fees, was $536,658.14, as computed from the yearly figures above given. At this time 1874, a careful examination of the land lien dockets of the office, made under the supervision of the Surveyor General, showed that unpaid liens remained on the dockets against 13,531 tracts of land aggregating 2,365,430 acres, on which there was due the sum of $758,380. With twenty-four years of accrued interest, at the rate of six per centum per annum, these arrearages would now, of course, amount to considerably more than double that sum; but it should here be said that in the land system of Pennsylvania it is not an uncommon circumstance to find the same land covered by two, and occasionally, as has been discovered, by even three, office rights, thus giving rise to conflicting and interfering surveys, or, as sometimes happened, causing the locating of a younger block of warrants upon land already surveyed on older warrants. It was never intended that there should be two payments for the same land, and the Legislature, foreseeing that difficulties from such conflicting surveys must necessarily arise in settling the lien dockets, wisely enacted a law in 1869 conferring upon the Surveyor General authority to grant releases in all cases where satisfactory evidence could be produced to show that payment in full had been made for both land and fees on one of the rights where two existed for the same land. Many such releases were entered and recorded between the years 1869 and 1874, and since then others, sufficiently large in number to somewhat reduce the amount apparently due by the examination of the dockets made in the latter year, have been allowed. There can be no doubt that like instances will appear in the future to be disposed of in the same way; but withal, after deducting payments that have been made since the year 1874, and making a liberal allowance for releases that may be hereafter entered under the act of 1869, the fact remains that unpaid liens on the dockets, consisting of balances due on mortgages, liens and unpatented tracts on which surveys have been returned, will, with added interest to the present time, amount to considerably more than $1,000,000. This statement is exclusive of the large number of tracts on the docket, held under office rights of various descriptions, on which surveys have never been returned, and on which no estimate of the amount of unpaid purchase money can be formed. Recent investigation has shown that among the older of these tracts are many that are covered by younger rights duly returned and paid for in full. There are many such tracts, originally held under proprietary rights, for which rights were subsequently taken out under the Commonwealth. In all such cases the docket should be cleared by entering releases as heretofore indicated; yet after all proper and legitimate deductions have been made, there will still remain a large number of the tracts without surveys on which purchase money, amounting in the aggregate to a very large sum, is honestly due.

The effect of the policy adopted in 1874—prompted as it undoubtedly was by humane considerations—is readily seen in the diminished receipts of the office from that time until the end of the year 1896, a period of twenty-two years. The amount paid into the Treasury for purchase money and fees (exclusive of copying fees) during the five years previous to 1875, was $319,512.89. During the twenty-two years following 1874, the aggregate amount is $80,451.27, or an average of $3,656 a year. The largest amount for any one of the twenty-two years was in 1875, for which year the receipts show $14,386.13; the smallest amount for any one of these years was in 1879, when they were only $1,619.71. In the five years previous to 1875, seven thousand and two patents were granted. In the following twenty-two years the number was one thousand three hundred and sixty-eight, less, it will be observed, than one-fifth the number issued in the preceding five years.

The foregoing observations are made with reference to the laws existing prior to 1897, under the administration of the office of the Surveyor General and subsequently that the Secretary of Internal Affairs, with reference to collections on the liens to unpatented lands. Hereinafter will be found a copy of the act of 1897, which only changes the manner of collecting amounts due the Commonwealth under prior existing laws.

The act of 1897 did not in any way change the character of the liens which had previously been entered, neither did it revive any because none had been outlawed. The Board of Property, under the act of 1864 and its several supplements hereinbefore referred to, had authority to take such action as it might deem proper with reference to enforcing collections. The Board, however, only meets some five or six times during the year, and when it is in session its duties are confined to questions of dispute arising from new applications for land, or between warrantees under rights previously granted, and the members of that Board have had little time, on account of other duties imposed by the Commonwealth, to devote to the duties imposed upon them under the act of 1864, and its several supplements, as to the collection of the amounts due the Commonwealth on unpatented lands. The effect therefore of the act of 1897, as before indicated, was to transfer from the Board of Property the authority with reference to the collection of these amounts to the Secretary of Internal Affairs. No other change, of any kind or nature, was made by the recent act of the Legislature, although a contrary impression seems to have gained some foothold throughout the Commonwealth where resistance was made to the enforcement of collections. It is proper to add here that in some of the counties of the Commonwealth, among which may be mentioned Elk, McKean, Potter, Tioga and Jefferson, where operations were commenced under the act of 1897, the dockets were largely cleared up, the lands against which liens were entered being owned largely by corporations, and the officers of such corporations, being desirous of having the titles perfected, had no objection to paying the small amounts due the Commonwealth and securing the final link in the chain of title from the State. As a result of this disposition on the part of certain land owners to complete their titles by taking out patents for their lands, a considerable increase in the business and receipts of the Department over late preceding years is to be noted. During the year ending November 30, 1896, the receipts from purchase money and land fees were $2,861.91, and in the same period 35 patents, covering 5,322 acres of land, were written. During the year ending November 30, 1897, the receipts from the same sources reached the sum of $9,980.97, while the number of patents written was 138, covering 47,321 acres. In addition, 24 liens embracing 11,704 acres, were satisfied without issuing of patents. Of the 138 patents issued during the year, 114 were written after the act became a law on the 26th day of May, while the 24 liens were all paid after that date. It can readily be seen from the showing thus made during a few months after the passage of the act that, had the plans and policy of the Department for carrying out its purposes been actively continued, the results would have been a noteworthy addition for some years to come to the revenue the State derived from unpaid land liens.

There have been some complaints made about the enforcement of the collection of amounts due, but the matters most complained of relate to the excessive interest, which was provided by the act of 1864. The cause that led to the increase of the interest charge under the act of 1864 was due largely to the belief that if such provision was made, the owners of unpatented lands would at once avail themselves of the right or privilege of making settlement of the purchase money, interest and fees then due, in order to become relieved of the additional interest charges which would accrue should there be delay in making payments. It is probable that at the next session of the Legislature an effort will be made to modify existing laws to the extent, at least, of relieving the owners of these lands of the additional interest which has accrued under the act of 1864 and its several supplements.

Appended to this article on the "Liens of the Commonwealth against Unpatented Lands," will be found, first, a table showing the yearly receipts of the Land Office for purchase money and fees (exclusive of copying fees) beginning with the year 1864 and ending with the year 1897, also the number of patents and warrants issued during the same years; second, copies of mortgage and bond given to secure the payment of purchase money, with patent granted in pursuance of the same; third, fac simile surveys returned on rights under the different systems of disposing of the public lands; and fourth, all the laws of the State relating to land liens, beginning with the act of May 20, 1864.

LAWS RELATING TO THE LAND LIENS OF THE COMMONWEALTH.

(Act of 20th May, 1864, P. L. 914.)

AN ACT

Directing the entry of liens for the principal and interest due the Commonwealth for lands held by virtue of locations or other office titles.

Section I. That it shall be the duty of the Surveyor General to make out a list of all lands held by location, or any other office right, issued from the Land Department of this Commonwealth, of every kind and description, upon which no patents have issued, designating the county in which such lands are situated, with such other descriptions of the same as the records of his office will enable him to give, including the names in which such locations or other office rights are entered, and surveys have been returned; and on the list being completed, or any part thereof, be transmitted to the prothonotary of the county in which such lands are situated.

Section II. That it shall be the duty of the Surveyor General to calculate the amount of purchase money, interest and fees, due on each unpatented tract; and after the descriptions of said tracts have been transmitted to the prothonotaries of the respective counties, and entered, as hereinafter provided, the amounts so found to be due, together with five dollars for the labor and costs of making out and filing, shall form an aggregate sum which shall be entered in a lien docket to be provided and kept for that purpose, and said sum shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent.

Section III. That it shall be the duty of the prothonotary of each county, upon receiving any descriptive list as aforesaid, to provide a suitable docket, with a proper index, for the purpose of recording all such descriptions of unpatented lands, and shall accurately record the same and index the name of the original warrantee or actual original settler, as the case may be, and each subsequent owner so far as ascertained, and preserve the same among the records of the county: Provided, That when any party in interest, by petition under oath or affirmation, setting out the facts in the case, as in affidavit of defense, shall represent to the president judge of the court of common pleas of the county, in which any tract or piece of land, against which the entry directed in the foregoing section has been made, or the principal part thereof, may lie, that said tract has been patented, either in the name against which the entry is made, or in any other name, the said judge shall, after such notice to the Surveyor General as he shall deem proper, proceed to hear the case of the petitioner; and the said judge shall, thereupon, make such decree in the premises, either by directing the said entry to be struck from the record, or such other order as to said entry, and also as to costs, as may seem equitable.

Section IV. That it shall be the duty of the prothonotary of each county, upon receiving from the Surveyor General any such list or calculation of amounts due the Commonwealth for purchase money, interest and fees, to provide a suitable docket with index, in the form of the lien dockets now in use in the several counties of this Commonwealth, to be styled "Lien Docket of Unpatented Lands," and enter therein the amount so found to be due, which sum shall remain a lien upon such tract or tracts, until paid; and that a fee of fifty cents be paid to the prothonotary for each description so entered, and that he be allowed the same fees on the liens entered, as are now allowed on judgments entered by warrant of attorney in the court of common pleas.

Section V. That it shall be the duty of the prothonotary, upon receiving any such descriptive list, to cause the same to be published in two newspapers in the county where such lands are located, for three successive weeks, for which publication he shall be authorized to pay fifty cents for each tract, and charge the same as costs on the lien docket, and retain his fees and costs out of any moneys, in his hands, due the Commonwealth.

Section VI. The amounts which may be due to the Commonwealth on the lands mentioned in the first section of this act, may be paid in accordance with the existing laws in relation to such lands, if the same be paid prior to the first day of November next: Provided, That any costs, which may have accrued in accordance with the provisions of this act, shall also be paid, and that the act to graduate lands on which money is due and unpaid to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, approved April tenth, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and thirty-five, be revived and continued in force, until the said first day of November next; and any survey and appraisements, made since the first day of August last, shall have the same validity for the issuing of patents thereon, as if the last mentioned law had been still in full force.

Section VII. That all liens due the Commonwealth for unpatented lands, after the first day of November, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, may be proceeded upon by the Attorney General of the Commonwealth in the manner directed to be pursued against defaulting public officers, by the act of April sixteenth, one thousand eight hundred and forty-five, and the supplement thereto.

Section VIII. All persons in the military or naval service of the United States, shall be allowed one year after the expiration of said service, for the taking out of any patent or patents under the provisions of this act.

Section IX. That, hereafter, the patent fee, on town lots not exceeding one-fourth of an acre, shall be one dollar, and on lots not exceeding two acres, five dollars.

(Act of 4th April, 1868, P. L. 60.)

A SUPPLEMENT

To an act directing the entry of liens for the principal and interest due to the Commonwealth for lands held by virtue of location or other office titles, approved the twentieth day of May, Anno Domini eighteen hundred and sixty-four.

Section I. That in lieu of the descriptive lists provided for in said act, it shall be the duty of the Surveyor General to make out and forward to the prothonotaries of the several counties, lien dockets, to be styled "land lien dockets," containing lists of all unpatented and patented lands, situate in the counties respectively, upon which there is money due the Commonwealth, and in all cases where surveys have been returned, to enter therein the amount of purchase money, interest and all fees due, and said aggregate shall remain a lien on such tract until paid or otherwise legally discharged: Provided, That the several prothonotaries shall be allowed to charge the fees now authorized by law when any information shall be desired from said records, and for entering any certificate under the seal of the Surveyor General, setting forth that any lien or part of lien against an unpatented tract has been paid, shall charge the party presenting such certificate a fee of twenty-five cents for entering and filing the same.

Section II. That the fifth section of the act to which this is a supplement, and so much of said act as is consistent herewith, be and the same is hereby repealed.

(Act of 8th April, 1869, P. L. 21.)

AN ACT

Directing public notice to be given when county land lien docketts are forwarded to the respective counties, and staying proceedings by the Attorney General for one year from the date of forwarding the same.

Whereas, The Surveyor General, at an early day, will be prepared to send out the county land lien docketts, containing accounts due the Commonwealth on account of lands, prepared under the act approved the twentieth day of May, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, and the supplement thereto, approved the fourth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight;

And whereas, It is proper that the people owing the State, for or on account of lands, should have notice when the liens therefor are entered in the counties, and that a reasonable time should be given to enable them to liquidate their indebtedness and obtain patents for their lands, before suits shall be brought in such cases by the Attorney General therefor.

Section I. That when any county land lien docket, prepared under the foregoing acts, shall be forwarded to any county, the Surveyor General is hereby authorized and directed to cause a notice thereof to be given in one English newspaper, published at the county seat of such county, and also in one German newspaper, if there be one in said county, setting forth that the land in lien docket for that county has been forwarded to the prothonotary thereof: Provided, That no greater sum than ten dollars shall be paid for such notice or advertisement for any one county; and on evidence being submitted to the Auditor Genral that such advertisement has been authorized by the Surveyor General, and inserted at the usual rates of advertising, he shall draw his warrant on the treasury in favor of the editor or publisher inserting the same.

Section II. That no suit or suits shall be entered or instituted by the Attorney General, under the provisions of the seventh section of the act of the twentieth of May, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, until one year shall have elapsed from the date at which the Surveyor General shall have forwarded to each county, respectively, the land lien docket for the same.

(Act of 15th April, 1869, P. L. 31.)

A FURTHER SUPPLEMENT

To an act directing the entry of liens for the principal and interest due to the Commonwealth for lands held by virtue of locations or other office titles, approved the twentieth day of May, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four.

Whereas, An examination of warrants and returns of surveys show in many cases interferences in said returns, and in many instances where patents have issued on some of said surveys, there are balances due upon other warrants covering the same land therefor.

Section 1. That whenever satisfactory evidence shall be given to the Surveyor General that a lien or liens have been entered against lands for which the Commonwealth has been fully paid, both for land and patent fees, he is hereby authorized, and it shall be his duty, to give to the party or parties applying for the same a release of said lien or liens, so far as said patented lands are concerned; which said release may be entered on the land lien docket, in accordance with the provisions of the supplement to the act of which this is a further supplement, approved the fourth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight.

[As many persons will apply for releases under the provisions of this law, it is deemed proper to state what will be regarded as satisfactory evidence by this department. Applicants, in order to avail themselves of the act, should cause a plot or survey of the patented tracts, and the unpatented interfering tracts (showing the manner in which, and to what extent they cover the same land), to be made by the county surveyor, who will certify that he has made the same at the request of A, B, and C—the owners of the patented tracts, or parts of tracts, or their agents or attorney—giving names of warrants and dates of warrants and patents, and names and dates of warrants of the unpatented lands, and that he believes the interference or interferences to be as delineated by him. On a paper appended to the above plot of surveys, the applicant or applicants, his or their agent or attorney will be required to make an affidavit that the ininterferences are liable to be as delineated by the county surveyor. A release will then be issued to the owner or owners of the patented tract or tracts, relieving them from any and all liability to pay the liens of the Commonwealth entered against such interfering unpatented tract or tracts. Section seven of the act approved the 20th day of May, 1864, invested the Attorney General with authority to proceed against the owners of unpatented lands, to enforce the payment of the arrears of purchase money, interest and fees due the Commonwealth on said lands. This power, by the following supplement, became vested in the Board of Property.]

A FURTHER SUPPLEMENT

To an act directing the entry of liens for the principal and interest due the Commonwealth for lands held by virtue of location or other office titles, approved the twentieth day of May, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four.

Section I. That the Board of Property shall have full and discretionary power as to the time of entering suits and the number thereof, to be brought for the collection of liens against unpatented lands; and the Attorney General shall proceed, under the seventh section of the said act, to which this is a further supplement, when authorized to do so by the said board: Provided, That no interest shall be charged on patent or other fees.

[Act of 11th April, 1872, P. L. 51.]

A FURTHER SUPPLEMENT

To an act directing the entry of liens for the principal and interest due the Commonwealth for lands held by virtue of location or other office title, approved the twentieth day of May, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four.

Section I. That for carrying into full effect the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, it shall be the duty of the Surveyor General to make out and forward to the several county surveyors, respectively, from time to time, as the Board of Property may determine, special lists of warrantee names of unpatented tracts, or remaining parts of unpatented tracts of lands within the several counties, as the same may appear upon the land lien dockets, with such other data relating thereto as he may deem necessary.

Section II. That it shall be the duty of the county surveyor of each county, to whom the Surveyor General may send special lists of war-rantee names of unpatented tracts or parts of tracts of land, and other data relating thereto, situate in the county for which such surveyor shall have been elected or appointed, to endeavor to ascertain the names and residences of the owners, agents or occupiers, and location of said tracts or parts of tracts, or any of them, and to give personal notice in writing to said owners, agents or occupiers, that said tracts or parts of tracts are unpatented, and that unless the arrearages shall have been paid within six months from the time of sending or serving said notice, the Board of Property may direct proceedings to be commenced by the Attorney General to enforce payment under the provisions of the act to which this is a further supplement: Provided, That when unpatented lands, as aforesaid, are occupied, and the owners are non-residents of the county, and have no known agent or agents within the county, the said notice may be given by sending it by mail, addressed to the owners or agents, and directed to the post office nearest their place of residence or usual place of business: And provided further, That when lands as aforesaid are unseated, and have been sold for taxes, and the time limited for their redemption has not expired, it shall be the duty of the county surveyor to give notice, in the manner hereinbefore provided, to the purchasers or their agents, and also to the parties or their agents, who last paid taxes thereon previous to the sale.

Section III. That it shall be the duty of the county surveyor to whom such special list shall have been sent as aforesaid, to make a written report, in duplicate, within three months, to the Surveyor General, filing a copy of the same in the prothonotary's office of each county, setting forth the names of warrantees, dates of warrants, location of tracts, and the names and residence of the owners, agents or occupiers of the unpatented tracts or parts of tracts upon whom he has served the notices as aforesaid, together with the manner of service; and for serving such notices on all the owners, agents or occupiers of the unpatented tracts or parts of tracts upon whom he has served notices as aforesaid, together with the manner of service; and for serving such notices on all the owners, agents or occupiers of an original unpatented tract, or remaining part of an original unpatented tract, he shall be entitled to a fee of five dollars, to be paid out of the State Treasury on warrants drawn by the Auditor General, upon the certificate of the Surveyor General.

Section IV. That it shall be the duty of the county surveyor, upon the reasonable request of any owner, or his agent, of part of an original tract which has not been patented, to make and return a return of survey of such part to the Surveyor General, and for which service his fees shall be the same as for executing a warrant of survey as now provided by law for the same quantity of acres.

Section V. That when any suits shall be entered by the Attorney General under the act to which this is a further supplement, it shall be by "scire facias sur liens," which shall be directed for service to the sheriff of the county in which the land is situate; and if he finds it necessary to insure a service of said writ he may call to his aid the county surveyor, who shall act as his deputy for the purpose of serving such writ, and all such writs shall be made returnable to the court of common pleas of the county wherein such lands are situate, where all such suits shall be tried.

[Act of 26th May, 1897, P. L. 101.]

AN ACT

Providing for the collection of the amounts due the Commonwealth for purchase money, interest and fees due on unpatented lands.

Whereas, The General Assembly under and by virtue of the act approved the twentieth day of May, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, and its supplements, provide for an unpatented land lien docket for the entry of liens therein to secure the purchase money, interest and fees due the Commonwealth on unpatented lands;

And whereas, The lien dockets now on file in the Department of Internal Affairs show that there are many of these liens unsatisfied, and, in the aggregate, a large amount of money still due the Commonwealth;

And whereas, It is impossible from the records on file to ascertain who are the present owners of the lands against which these liens are entered; therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That it shall be the duty of the Secretary of Internal Affairs to ascertain so far as possible the owner or owners of the lands against which liens have been entered under the act of May twentieth, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, and its supplements, and to enforce collections of the amounts of money due the Commonwealth, by reason of the unpaid purchase money, interest and fees due on the lands heretofore sold by the Commonwealth, which now remain unpatented by reason of the unsettled accounts against such lands.

Section 2. That if any person or persons owning such unpatented lands against which there have been entered liens, and who shall refuse or longer neglect to pay the said lien or that portion thereof which applies to the part of the original tract which such person or persons own, it shall be the duty of the Secretary of Internal Affairs, after having satisfied himself as to the validity of the lien aforesaid, to take such action as he may deem proper to enforce the collection of the same, and for this purpose he is authorized to employ such assistance as he may deem necessary in the premises, or in case of refusal of any person or persons owning the lands against which such liens exist to pay the said amount due, the Secretary of Internal Affairs may certify the amount of such claim of the Commonwealth to the Attorney General, whose duty it shall be to proceed to collect the amount due the Commonwealth by a scire facias sur liens, which shall be directed to the sheriff of the county wherein the land against which the lien is entered may be situated.

Section 3. It shall be the duty of the clerk to the Board of Property to make a list of liens as they may be required under this act for use in the collection of the moneys due the Commonwealth, to which list shall be added the name of the original warrants, the number of acres of land covered by the lien, the location of the land as nearly as may be possible, the date of the entry of the lien, the amount thereof, including the fees and interest accrued thereon.

Section 4. That when the amount due the Commonwealth shall have been paid, satisfaction shall be entered on the lien docket in the Department of Internal Affairs, and a certificate, showing such payment and satisfaction, shall be made under the hand of the Secretary of Internal Affairs, attested by the seal of his Department and forwarded to the party entitled thereto, who, upon presentation of the same to the prothonotary of the proper county and the payment of the usual fee, shall have satisfaction entered upon the unpatented land lien docket of such county in attestation of the extinguishment of the lien of the Commonwealth for such purchase money, interest and fees.

Section 5. That all moneys received under the provisions of this act, except as provided in section six of this act, shall be paid into the State Treasury, and when so paid and receipted by the State Treasurer it shall be the duty of the Secretary of Internal Affairs to issue patents for the land so discharged from the lien of the Commonwealth in the manner as patents are now granted in other cases.

Section 6. That from the moneys so collected there shall be deducted such amount for actual expenses incurred and service rendered in the enforcement of this act, as may be approved by the Auditor General and State Treasurer and Secretary of Internal Affairs.

Section 7. That whenever it shall appear from the land office records in the Department of Internal Affairs that warrants for land belonging to the Commonwealth have been legally granted, or that town lots have been sold by a commission representing the Commonwealth in conformity with the law authorizing the sale of such lots, and when there is no lien entered on record against such land or lots in the unpatented land lien docket authorized by the act of May twentieth, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, and its supplements, in the respective county in which said lands may lie, it shall be the duty of the Secretary of Internal Affairs to grant patents for such lands or lots in the usual form and manner, upon proof of ownership of such land or lots, and the payment of the patent fees now authorized by law.

COUNTY LINES.

Under existing laws, when there is an effort to produce a change in the county lines, with a view of establishing a new boundary between adjoining counties, it is provided that a copy of the report of any Commission that may be appointed to establish the new boundary, shall be filed in this Department. The Legislature at its last session passed some new enactments upon this question, and while there may have been commissions appointed to change some of the boundary lines of certain counties, no reports have been filed in this Department during the year.

MAPS, REPORTS, ETC.

Under the act of May 8, 1876, maps and reports have been numbered and filed among the department records during the past year as follows, to-wit:

BOUNDARY LINES AND BOUNDARY LINE MONUMENTS.

Within the last two years the boundary line monuments on the line between Pennsylvania and New York have been carefully examined by commissioners appointed by the two states. A detailed report was published in the report of 1896 showing the condition of these monuments. In the report of last year a supplemental report was published showing what action had been taken by the commissioners pursuant to the authority given them to reset and restore the monuments which by the previous report had been shown to need attention. In 1897 parties representing this Department made an examination of the boundary line monuments between this State and the states of Ohio and West Virginia, and their report was published in last year's report. During the months of March and April of this year commissioners were appointed to examine the monuments along the Mason and Dixon line, the boundary line between Pennsylvania, Maryland and West Virginia. A detailed statement of their work is submitted herewith in which will be found a description of each monument and its present condition. As these monuments are so closely connected with the early history of the Commonwealth, having been for the most part prepared in England and brought to this country to be set in the line that has become famous as the Mason and Dixon line, it is important that they should receive the most careful attention, and those that have been misplaced or taken away should if possible be restored to their proper locations. The report discloses the fact that a number of the monuments should be reset, and all of them should be protected so far as practicable. The detailed report of the examiners is submitted herewith. They commenced work, as their report indicates, at the northeast corner of Maryland and proceeded westerly to the southwest corner of Pennsylvania, examining every one carefully and, it is believed, executing the duties imposed upon them with great fidelity.

Hon. James W. Latta, Sec'y Internal Affairs,
Harrisburg, Pa.:

We the undersigned, after a careful examination of the monuments, between the State of Pennsylvania and the states of Maryland and

West Virginia, report the foregoing as our opinion of the condition of the same.

Filed in the Department of Internal Affairs of Pennsylvania May 2, 1898.

JAMES W. LATTA,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

BUREAU OF INDUSTRIAL STATISTICS.

The annual report of the Bureau is bound separately, and is known as Part III of the reports of the Department of Internal Affairs.

In the report for 1898 great care has been exercised in giving more complete figures regarding the production of pig iron, steel, iron and steel rolled into finished form and tin plate. Separation is made as to the basic and acid process of steel manufacture and the total tonnage of each given. In pig iron, iron and steel rolled into finished form and tin plate the questions of capital invested, cost of basic materials, persons employed, wages paid and value of production have been compiled with great accuracy. Limestone, so largely used in the manufacture of iron and steel, is covered as a census work. The relative per cent. of production by counties of the above industries is given.

In addition to these leading manufactures a complete census of the manufacture of silk in the State is given and comparison made with the figures furnished by this Bureau in 1895.

The comparative work, that is, the comparison of returns from the same manufacturing establishments from year to year, is continued and by reason of the new 1896 series has developed more than ordinary interest.

BUREAU OF RAILWAYS.

Under the Constitution and laws of the Commonwealth railway corporations, including both steam and street railways, telegraph, telephone and canal corporations, are required to make annual reports to the Secretary of Internal Affairs. Blank forms are annually prepared by the Superintendent of the Bureau of Railways and are transmitted to the corporations on or before the first day of June each year. The law authorizing these reports provides for a fiscal year ending June 30th. The reports for the year ending June 30, 1898, were received, compiled and published within the time specified by law. They cover questions relating to railway capitalization, bonded and floating indebtedness, cost of line and equipment, receipts, expenditures, and, as to railways and canals, the amount of tonnage, classified with reference to productions of agriculture, mines, forests and manufactures. Data are also given showing the number of employes, the annual compensation paid, the number of accidents to employes and passengers and other matters of interest to the promoters of these corporations and to the public generally. In the present report a description is given of many of the larger railway bridges of the Commonwealth, accompanied by photographs. Articles are also included on the question of steam railway capitalization in Pennsylvania, on the assets of railway corporations, on railway employes and their compensation, on amount of freight carried, on income and expenditure and on accidents. Articles are also published as editorials in the report referring to the organization and operation of street railways, and an article entitled "Railways and Prosperity, Rates of Transportation and Pooling."

THE BUREAU OF MINES.

The Bureau of Mines created in the Department of Internal Affairs has been in operation something over a year, and while its work has been largely preliminary, it has fully demonstrated its necessity, and it is believed has resulted in the Inspectors being more attentive to the duties imposed on them by law. A system has been established requiring the Inspectors to report each day's duty performed, together with a report of the condition of each mine inspected. They are also required to report all accidents as soon as they occur, showing the cause and the circumstances connected therewith. The object of this is to so classify the accidents and their causes that, if possible, means may be devised for their prevention. This of course requires some time. While it is true that accidents will occur in coal mines, it is believed that through and by the well directed effort of the Bureau accidents can be very materially reduced.

The chief of the Bureau has devoted the whole of his time to the duties of his office, and has been earnest in seeing that the mining laws of the State were faithfully executed. During the year the Bureau was compelled to ask the courts to restrain the Elk Hill Coal and Iron Company, a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Pennsylvania for the purpose of mining, preparing for market and selling anthracite coal, from operating their mines in contravention of the mine law. The courts were also asked to restrain the Marion Coal Company, a corporation organized under the laws of the State for the purpose of mining, preparing for market and selling anthracite coal, from operating its mines for the same reason. The Bureau was sustained in both cases by the granting of injunctions by the court restraining them from operating their mines until the law was complied with. An arbitration case with the Marion Coal Company was also decided in favor of the State. There were several other instances brought to the notice of the Bureau where mines were being operated in contravention of the mine law, but when the owners were asked to suspend operations until the cause of danger was removed, they wisely did so.

The Bureau has, so far as possible, inquired into the various systems of coal mining practiced in the State, methods of mining, ventilation, machinery employed, structure and character of the several seams operated in the bituminous mines and of the associated strata, economy of coal production, coal waste and area and exhaustion of coal territory, an account of which will appear in the report of the Bureau, together with other matters pertaining to the general welfare of coal miners and others connected with coal mining, and the interests of coal mine owners and operators in this Commonwealth.

A study of the mining laws of Pennsylvania for both the anthracite and bituminous regions, and the act of 1897 providing for the establishment of a Bureau of Mines in the Department of Internal Affairs, will carry conviction as to the present amount of work involved in supervising the mining interests of Pennsylvania. The act of 1897 when originally drawn, provided for several other employees in the Bureau, but as there seemed to be a strong sentiment existing against the creation of additional offices, the bill was amended, eliminating all those provided for in the bill save alone the Chief of the Bureau, the assistant and the messenger. It is believed that if the next Legislature should provide for at least one additional clerk and a stenographer, it would thereby conserve, and strictly so, the public interests as they may relate to the coal mining industry of Pennsylvania.

ASSESSMENTS.

In accordance with the duties imposed upon the several boards of county commissioners throughout the Commonwealth, there have been made in tabular form to this Department lists of property taxable for local, county and State purposes in the several assessment districts. These returns were made on blanks furnished by this Department and the data are so arranged as to show the number of taxables, the number of acres of cleared and timber land, assessed value of all real estate, assessed value of real estate exempt from taxation, assessed value of real estate taxable, number and value of horses and cattle, values of salaries and emoluments of office, value of property taxable for county purposes, aggregate amount of county taxes assessed and the rate prevailing in each county, amount of money at interest, value of stages, omnibuses, hacks, etc., together with the aggregate value of the property taxable for State purposes at four mills on a dollar.

NUMBER OF TAXABLES.

The total number of taxables reported for the year 1898, by the several boards of county commissioners was 1,865,496. Last year the number was 1,878,786. In some counties the number of taxables fluctuates in a most remarkable degree. The large increases, found in some counties is probably due to the purpose of swelling the number at least so far as the facts will warrant with a view of affecting the school appropriation from the State. There is, however, a decrease in the total number in the State over the number reported in the previous year. Among the counties that show an increase in the number of taxables for the year are Butler, Cambria, Chester, Clearfield, Dauphin, Delaware, Elk, Erie, Indiana, Lebanon, McKean, Montgomery, Northampton, Philadelphia, Schuylkill, Susquehanna, Venango, Wayne, Westmoreland and York. The counties showing a decrease are Bradford, Cumberland, Franklin, Fulton, Greene, Lehigh, Luzerne, Mercer, Mifflin, Perry, Washington and Wyoming. The greatest decrease being in Cumberland, which shows a falling off of taxables in one year of 2,619. As a matter of fact it is not probable that there has been any decrease of the number of taxables in any county. Therefore the returns that show a decrease, indicate that the assessors are in error, or that former returns were incorrect. Some disparities in returns may be observed when comparisons are made during a period of, say, six years. In the year 1894, the number of taxables returned for the county of Philadelphia was 276,977; in the year 1895, 332,297; in the year 1896, 292,965; and in the year 1897, 299,926, and for the year covered by this report, 303,823.

CLEARED AND TIMBER LANDS.

Year after year comment has been made by this Department regarding the unreliability of the data collected as to the number of acres of cleared and timber land, and further comment seems therefore unnecessary.

The following counties report an increase in the number of acres of timber lands over the amounts returned in 1897: Chester, 9,429; Indiana, 1,224; Luzerne, 55,158, and Somerset 70,868. The following counties show marked decreases over the number of acres returned in 1897: Montgomery, 8,695, and Westmoreland, 297,425.

It is surprising to note the shrinkage in the number of acres of cleared lands within the last year. Among the counties showing a decrease are Chester, with a falling off of 208,643; Franklin, with 4,369; Huntingdon, with 8,916; Mifflin, with 8,656; Montgomery, with 245,359, and Warren, with 18,043. The following counties show a marked increase of the number of acres of cleared land over that reported last year. Indiana, with an increase of 115,712 acres; Luzerne, 314,547, and Venango, with 82,650.

This comparison reinforces the opinion expressed in previous reports that the data collected with reference to the acreage of cleared and timber lands are most unreliable, and while comparisons made from year to year may be of interest on their face, yet this value consists alone in establishing the recklessness that characterizes the action of the assessors in collecting and compiling the returns.

VALUE OF ALL REAL ESTATE.

The value of real estate in the Commonwealth as returned by the commissioners of the various counties for the year 1898, was $2,981,102,089. The amount reported last year was $2,814,545,927. This includes the amount of property not only taxable, but also that returned by the assessors as exempt from taxation. Eight years ago the returns indicated a value of $2,256,151,310. It will be seen that there has been an apparent increase of $724,950,779, of assessed valuation within the past eight years. The increase during the past year was $166,556,162. The most notable increases during the year will be found in the counties of Luzerne, Potter and Washington. The first mentioned county shows an increase in assessed valuation from $27,558,258, in 1897, to $116,482,158 in 1898, a net increase of $88,923,900, or more than four times the amount returned in 1897. Potter county increased her valuation of $2,544,791 in 1897, to $11,315,468 in 1898, a net increase in one year of $8,770,677. Washington county follows next with a net increase for the year of $6,314,922. Slight decreases are found in the counties of Armstrong, Blair, Bucks, Chester, Clarion, Clearfield, Dauphin, Jefferson, Lancaster, Lebanon, Northampton, Tioga, Venango and York.

VALUE OF REAL ESTATE EXEMPT FROM TAXATION.

In 1891 the value of real estate exempt from taxation was 153,814,427; in 1892, $234,801,553; in 1893, $239,243,753; in 1894, $245,- 368,752; in 1895, $270,920,645; in 1896, $277,539,526; in 1897, $282,977,287; and in 1898, $295,902,377. These figures indicate an increase since 1891 of $142,087,950, and an increase of $12,925,090, for the year 1898, over the amount returned in 1897. The counties of Fulton and McKean make no return of this class of property for the years 1897 and 1898. The $295,902,377, reported for the year would seem to include churches, school properties of all kinds and municipal properties. It is safe to say, however, that this amount will not cover either the school properties or the churches, while municipal properties in the several counties, cities, boroughs and townships will at least be a large fraction of the amount reported as indicating the total value of real estate exempt from taxation. Evidently the assessors fail to make full returns of property within their respective districts as to the value of property exempted from taxation.

VALUE OF REAL ESTATE TAXABLE.

In 1891 the value of real estate taxable was reported at $2,092,336,883; in 1892, $2,308,767,431; in 1893, $2,351,190,037; in 1894, $2,389,232,748; in 1895, $2,471,018,204; in 1896, $2,499,661,995; in 1897, $2,531,568,640; in 1898, $2,685,199,712. These figures indicate an increase in eight years of $592,862,829. The increase during the year was $153,631,072. Notable increases are shown in the counties of Allegheny, Lancaster, Luzerne, Northumberland, Philadelphia, Potter and Washington. In comparing the assessed valuation of real estate in the various counties, it is apparent that most flagrant inequalities exist. This Department has frequently referred to them and further comment seems unnecessary.

NUMBER AND VALUE OF HORSES, MARES, GELDINGS AND MULES OVER THE AGE OF FOUR YEARS.

In 1894, the number of horses, etc., reported was 550,134, and the assessed value $30,162,309; in 1895 the number was 576,767, and the value $25,403,400; in 1896 the number was 578,022, and the value $23,163,987; in 1897 the number was 587,846, and the value $22,744,516; in 1898 the number was 606,066, and the value $23,771,539. It will be seen that while in 1894, the 550,134 were valued at $30,162,309, the 606,066 reported in 1898 were valued at only $23,771,539. Since 1891 there has been an apparent decrease in the value of these animals of $9,005,921. The reports for the year 1898 shows an increase in number of 18,220, and an increase in value of $1,027,023.

The following table shows the remarkable increase in the assessed valuation of these animals in the counties named.

	Number.	Value.	Average value.	Number.	Value.	Average value.
Luzerne,	15,828	$417,386	$26 37	16,909	$892,365	$52 77
Northumberland,	9,621	173,140	18 00	9,055	212,641	23 48
Potter,	5,007	200,659	24 46	8,577	258,333	30 12
Somerset,	8,202	39,230	7 84	5,365	213,413	37 87
Westmoreland,	16,069	444,822	27 69	16,681	539,940	32 37

Special attention is called to the unequal valuation placed upon this class of property in Potter county. The township of West Branch returns 164 animals and places their value at $4,430, and the township of Wharton returns the same number and fixes their value at $7,800.

NUMBER AND VALUE OF NEAT CATTLE OVER THE AGE OF FOUR YEARS.

In 1894 the number of neat cattle reported was 672,023, and the value $11,565,283; in 1895 the number was 667,788, and the value $11,660,891; in 1896 the number was 632,806, and the value $11,681,963; in 1897 the number was 655,895, and the value $11,433,934; and in 1898, the number was 615,818, and the value $11,915,317. The lowest number reported during the years mentioned is for the present year, 1898.

There has been exceptional instances of the increase in the assessed value of these animals in various counties, as shown by comparison of the reports of 1897 and 1898, in the following counties, to-wit:

	Number.	Value.	Number.	Value.
Cambria,	6,845	$75,460	6,940	$105,025

1898,	615,818	11,915,317	19 34
Total,	7,238,402	$131,820,658

Average value per head for eleven years, $18.21.

A different condition exists, however, when comparisons are made of the number and value and average value per head of horses, mares, geldings and mules, as disclosed in the following tables.

In 1888 there were 475,204 animals returned under this head, valued at $30,091,845, or an average value of $63.32. The highest number returned was for the present year, to-wit: 606,066, valued at $23,771,539, or an average value of $39.22.

	Number and value of horses, mares, geldings and mules over the age of four years, returned for the last ten years.		The average value per head per year as per return.

1898,	606,066	23,771,539	39 22
Total,	6,011,093	$318,166,921

Average value per head for eleven years, $53.01.

These figures indicate a remarkable change in the average value of these animals, for it seems that the 485,204 returned in 1888, were valued at $6,320,306, more than the 606,066, returned in 1898.

During the eleven years covered by this table the average value has been $51.01. The highest average value was in 1891, when it was $64.65. As before indicated, there has been but little change in the average value of cattle, but there has been a marked reduction in the value of horses, mules, etc., attributable, it may be presumed, to the very extensive introduction of electricity as a motive power, and to the general use of the bicycle.

AGGREGATE AMOUNT OF COUNTY TAXES ASSESSED.

The aggregate amount of taxes assessed and collected for county purposes is shown by the tabulations to be of considerable interest in the way of comparison to show the economy or lack of economy enforced in the support of the several county governments. The amount of taxes assessed for county purposes in the year 1891 was $18,250,660.87; in 1892, $19,829,680.78; in 1893, $18,851,798.73; in 1894, $19,935,994.04; in 1895, $20,387,168.08; in 1896, $20,758,185.06; in 1897, $21,251,267.21, and in 1898, $21,831,367.85, showing an increase of $580,100.64 in the last year.

Among the counties showing a considerable increase are Allegheny, Berks, Carbon, Crawford, Franklin, Lackawanna, Lancaster, Philadelphia, Venango, Washington and Westmoreland. The counties showing the greatest decreases are Bedford, Bradford, Elk, Greene, Huntingdon and Northampton. As every county in the State made a return on this subject, it may be presumed that the above amounts, to-wit, $21,831,367.85, is a close approximation to the amount expended during the year for the maintenance of the several county governments of the Commonwealth. The rate of taxation in the several counties for the support of the county government is fixed by the respective boards of county commissioners. Where there is no county debt and through economical administration the expenses are light, there is of course a low rate of taxation, but where county debts exist and large expenditures are made for the support of the poor, where extraordinary expenses are incurred in the way of building and maintaining expensive bridges and in the construction of good roads, the rate of taxation must necessarily be high. A study of the preceding figures showing the total amount of tax assessed for county purpose since 1891, shows a uniformity that does not generally exist in the returns made by the county commissioners on other subjects. Since 1891 the increase has been $3,580,706.98.

AMOUNT OF MONEY AT INTEREST, INCLUDING MORTGAGES, JUDGMENTS, BONDS, NOTES, STOCKS, ETC.

Up to the time of the passage of the act of 1885, the amount of money at interest was probably but a fraction of the actual amount that should have been reported. The machinery furnished by the Legislature to enforce a proper return of money at interest resulted in the State securing a larger amount of tax upon this subject of taxation than it had ever been able to procure before. The reports made to this Department prior to 1885 clearly indicate this, but while this is true, it is also apparent from a comparison made since 1891, that there has been a steady increase in the amount of money at interest. In 1891, the amount returned was $579,036,227; in 1892, $590,882,560; in 1893, $607,664,408; in 1894, $616,043,542; in 1895, $620,020,507; in 1896, $670,803,246; in 1897, $675,713,437; and in 1898, $684,879,157. These figures indicate an increase during the year of $9,165,720. Effectual as may be the machinery provided by law for securing full returns on money at interest, it is entirely probable that there is much more at interest than is indicated by these returns. Human nature is not of that high standard generally that will induce men to make a complete return of money for the purpose of State taxation, as there is a general effort made by many to avoid taxation rather than submit to the honest and fair share in the expense of maintaining the government.

The most notable increases in the amount returned under this head is found in the counties of Greene, Lackawanna, Montgomery and Philadelphia. The following counties show a falling off: Carbon, Fayette, Indiana, Lebanon, Lycoming and Sullivan. The following counties lead in the amount of money at interest returned in the order named, to-wit: Philadelphia, with $352,323,808; Allegheny next, with $81,082,865, then follows Montgomery with $21,823,565; Lancaster, $20,946,913, and Berks with $16,360,268. From these figures it will be observed that the city of Philadelphia alone returns more money at interest than all the other sixty-six counties in the State.

VALUE OF STAGES, OMNIBUSES, HACKS, CABS, ETC.

The tax laws of the Commonwealth are probably violated to a greater extent with reference to a proper assessment of the value of stages, omnibuses, etc., than in any other direction. A study of the consolidated table showing the amount returned by each county will be convincing proof of the entire failure of the law, so far as this subject of taxation is concerned. It cannot be denied that there is a large amount of money invested in this class of property, and yet the amount returned by some of the counties is so trifling as to be hardly worth mentioning and belittles the county from which the return is made. In 1891 the amount returned in the State was $636,667; in 1892, $627,179; in 1893, $508,204; in 1894, $570,061; in 1895, $554,467; in 1896, $530,819; in 1897, $519,680, and in 1898, $562,844. It will be seen from these figures that the value of this class of property was over seventy-three thousand dollars less in 1898, than it was in 1891, although the report of 1898 shows an increase of $43,164, over that of 1897. It is undoubtedly a fact that hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of this class of property escapes taxation in some of the larger counties where it must be admitted that there is a vast amount of money invested in this way, but small amounts are returned for taxation. For instance, in the county of Lackawanna, where there are probably several hundred thousands of dollars invested in stages, omnibuses, etc., the returns show only $19,305, a decrease of $2,290, over the amount reported last year. Several of the counties, judging from their reports, are entirely without property of this class. Among them are Cameron, Juniata, McKean, Potter and Snyder. The county of Fulton, without a mile of railroad within her borders reports only eighty dollars' worth of this kind of property.

AMOUNT OF STATE TAX COLLECTED FROM MONEY AT INTEREST, STAGES, OMNIBUSES, ETC., PROPERTY TAXABLE FOR STATE PURPOSES AT THE RATE OF FOUR MILLS ON THE DOLLAR.

Under this head of taxation the State received, in 1891, $1,748,448.66; in 1892, $2,365,989.61; in 1893, $2,433,011.84; in 1894 $2,466,451.31; in 1895, $2,482,507.52; in 1896, $2,685,375.92; in 1897, $2,702,003.64; and in 1898, $2,741,729.87, showing an increase of $39,526.23 over the amount returned for the year 1897, and an increase of $993,481.21 over the amount returned in 1891, the total amount of taxes paid on this class of property in 1898, to-wit: $2,741,729.87, $1,409,833.79 was paid by the city of Philadelphia.

The counties showing the greatest increase of State tax collected are Beaver, Berks, Centre, Delaware, Greene, Lackawanna, Montgomery, Northampton, Philadelphia and Schuylkill. The counties showing the greatest falling off are Chester, Clarion, Clinton, Erie, Fayette, Huntingdon, Lebanon, Lehigh and Lycoming.

COUNTY DEBT.

The total amount of indebtedness reported is $68,724,651.16; Allegheny county reporting $3,282,058.77, and Philadelphia $58,971,995.60.

The counties reporting no debt are Bucks, Cambria, Centre, Cumberland, Erie, Franklin, Greene, Lawrence, Lehigh, Susquehanna, Venango and Washington. The following counties reported no debt in 1897, but do report an indebtedness for 1898: Butler, Clarion, McKean, Pike and Wyoming. Susquehanna reported a debt of $12,000.00 in 1897 and none in 1898.

The following counties have reduced their debt during the past year: Allegheny, Armstrong, Blair, Cameron, Columbia, Crawford, Delaware, Fayette, Forest, Huntingdon, Indiana, Jefferson, Juniata, Lackawanna, Lycoming, Mifflin, Montour, Potter, Tioga and Wayne.

A notable increase in the indebtedness will be found in the counties of Berks, which reported a debt of $29,109.00 in 1897, and $124,754.00 in 1898, being an increase of $95,645.00 for the year. Lancaster reported a debt of $270,000.00 in 1897, and one of $320,000.00 in 1898, being an increase of $50,000.00 for the year. Luzerne reported a debt of $33,500.00 in 1897, and one of $127,500.00 in 1898, being an increase of $94,000.00 for the year. Mercer reported a debt of $25,380.46 in 1897, and one of $41,492.34 in 1898, being an increase of $16,111.88 for the year. Schuylkill reported a debt of $625,200.00 in 1897, and $756,300.00 in 1898, being an increase of $131,100.00 for the year. York reported a debt of $5,000.00 in 1897, and $200,000.00 in 1898, being an increase of $195,000.00 for the year. All the other counties maintain the same indebtedness, or have reduced the amount.

The total amount of indebtedness reported in 1891 was $84,773.192.42; in 1892, $63,602,502.43; in 1893, $63,982,537.24; in 1894, $63,743,368.40; in 1895, $62,937,468.01; in 1896, $62,615,279.83; in 1897, $67,975,000.38; and in 1898, $68,724,651.16, an increase of $749,650.78 over the amount returned in 1897, and a decrease of $16,048,541.26 from the amount returned in 1891.

The information referred to in these observations under the several headings is tabulated and published in Part II of the annual report immediately preceding the tabulations referring to the total amount of taxes collected for all purposes. A comparison of these tables with tables of former years will be of interest to those who have made or who are now making an investigation of the assessment of real and personal property for the purpose of taxation.

LOCAL TAXES.

The Legislature at the session of 1889 passed an act imposing upon the Department of Internal Affairs the duty of collecting data from the boards of county commissioners with reference to the taxes collected for the following purposes:

1. Support of the poor.
2. Construction and repairs of streets, roads and bridges.
3. Support of the common schools.
4. Other purposes than those above enumerated, including maintenance of county and municipal governments.
5. Total amount of taxes collected for all purposes, including all amounts collected from the granting of licenses.

The act above referred to made it the duty of the assessors, collectors of taxes and other officers of township, borough, county and city governments to return to the several boards of county commissioners all the data called for with reference to the taxes collected for the purposes indicated. The Department for two or three years after the passage of the act encountered great difficulty in obtaining proper returns from many of the counties. A disposition was shown by officers to disregard the law on the ground that no sufficient arrangement had been made for compensation for the services that would necessarily have to be rendered in securing a proper enforcement of the act. Generally, however, the boards of county commissioners and the proper officers of the townships, boroughs and cities exhibited a willingness to comply with the law so far as possible, and while the remuneration provided by the Legislature is hardly commensurate with the duties required of these officers, the returns for the past few years have been complete enough to enable the Department to publish annually the total expense to the people of the Commonwealth for the purposes enumerated.

The act of the Legislature above referred to did not disclose the purpose of the law. It is presumed that there was some other motive that prompted the passage of the act than the mere desire for the data which might be obtained by executing its provisions. The taxes on corporations, with but few exceptions, are not paid through the local treasuries of township, borough, city or county governments. They are paid directly into the State Treasury and are based upon the assessed valuation of capital stock, the par value of bonded indebtedness, the gross receipts, etc. It may be safely presumed that one of the objects which prompted the Legislature to pass the law referred to was to make it possible to compare the taxes paid by corporations directly into the State Treasury with those paid by individuals and partnerships into the local treasuries with a view of ascertaining whether or not the corporations of the State are bearing their full share of the burdens of public taxation. In tabulated form accompanying this report will be found the details for each district in all the counties of the Commonwealth. These tabulations show the taxes collected for the support of the poor, for the construction and repairs of streets, roads and bridges, the support of the common schools and for other local purposes, the total amount collected for all local purposes. In another detailed division or tabulation is shown the amount of taxes collected on personal property, on occupations, on licenses of all kinds, on the real estate of railway corporations and on the real estate of corporations other than railways, including limited partnerships.

In making observations with reference to these returns, it seems unnecessary to go into the question of comparison as to the amount per capita which may be paid for any of the purposes indicated in the several assessment districts of the Commonwealth. Anyone who may desire to make an examination of this subject can easily determine the percentages or per capita which, for instance, it cost to support the poor in one district as compared with another district in the same county or as compared with a district in another county, or comparison may be made of the totals in one county with the totals in another, and thereby determine where the burdens of public taxation for certain purposes bear most heavily or rest most lightly. In another tabulation will be found the data referred to above in consolidated form, that is the total amount is given for the support of the poor in each county, the total amount for the construction and repairs of streets, roads and bridges, the total amount for the support of the common schools, the total amount for the maintenance of county governments and other purposes, and the total for all local purposes. In the second division of the consolidated table will also be found the specifications with reference to the amount of taxes collected on personal property and on occupations, the amount collected from the granting of licenses and the amount collected on real estate of railway and other corporations.

TAXES COLLECTED FOR THE SUPPORT OF THE POOR.

The amount collected during the year for the support of the poor was $2,465,787.60, of which the city of Philadelphia collected or rather appropriated $510,294.73; Allegheny county, $293,851.43; Lackawanna county, $125,796.25. The county expending the least amount for this purpose was Fulton, $1,892.66. While it is seen that the support of the poor of the Commonwealth has cost about $2,500,000, it must be remembered that this amount does not include the very large appropriation made from the State Treasury for the maintenance of charitable institutions wherein many of the poor of the Commonwealth are supported, and for whose support no taxes are collected locally. Therefore the cost of the maintenance of the poor in the charitable institutions of the State is in addition to the two millions and a half referred to.

TAXES COLLECTED FOR CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIRS OF STREETS, ROADS AND BRIDGES.

The returns for the year show that the amount collected for the construction and repairs of streets, roads and bridges was $9,403,660.44. Last year the amount was $9,834,958.12. If these figures are correct and exhibit the facts, it would seem that there has been a falling off of over $400,000 in the taxes collected for this purpose. In the city of Philadelphia, which is co-extensive with the limits of the county, the total amount expended was $1,529,898.25; in the county of Allegheny, $1,420,485.41; Lancaster, $306,056.70; Montgomery, $417,428.05; Schuylkill, $194,122.08; Westmoreland, $242,252.62. In the last twenty-five years many millions of dollars have been expended on the roads of Pennsylvania, and the close observer can bear testimony to the fact that the money has not generally been expended judiciously. In some cases the taxpayers are allowed to go upon the public roads wherever they may please and work out their taxes, without any reference to making the best possible use of the energy expended or the money paid for the improvement or maintenance of the road. This, as is generally known, has been repeated year after year, and the result is that there has been no such permanent or general improvement of the public highways as there should have been made. If the money annually collected were expended in permanent improvements of such a character as to withstand the elements, it is more than probable that within a few years there would be great improvement in our highways. Certainly enough money is expended by the people of the Commonwealth to produce better results than are now found.

TAXES COLLECTED FOR THE SUPPORT OF THE COMMON SCHOOLS.

As a general thing, of the taxes paid by the individual citizen of the Commonwealth, none is paid more willingly, especially by those who have the interests of the people at heart, than the tax for the support of the common schools. It has always been the pride of Pennsylvania that her common schools are second to none in the Union, and it is believed by many that for some years they were in advance of the schools of any other state. The State government itself has always taken a commendable pride in advancing educational facilities. This is evidenced in the fundamental law of the land which requires an annual appropriation of at least one million dollars to be made from the State Treasury for this purpose. It is more strongly intensified in the spirit which has characterized the Legislature from year to year in increasing the amount from one million until now the annual appropriation is five and a half millions. This does not include the amounts appropriated to educational institutions, the State College, the Soldiers' Orphan Schools, or the Normal Schools. No other state appropriates so much money for the advancement of educational interests as Pennsylvania. The unfortunate condition that results from the large appropriations by the State is that school boards, upon whom devolve the assessment of taxes for the support of the schools in their respective districts, have in some cases made no assessments whatever for school purposes, relying alone upon the amount received from the State, or have so far reduced the rate of taxation as to cripple rather than advance the common school interests, and have defeated the purpose of the framers of the Constitution and the Legislature which aimed to advance public education.

In the assessment districts of the Commonwealth during the year there was collected $12,848,923.58 for school purposes. The amount last year was $11,204,999.86. It is proper to observe that this amount does not include any moneys appropriated by the State, but embraces only such amounts as are collected from the people locally. In the county of Allegheny the amount collected during the year was $1,612,931.90; in Philadelphia, $3,993,157.64. These two counties alone contributed nearly one-half of the total amount collected in the State. The amount collected in Berks county was $251,819.40; in Dauphin, $241,025.16; in Delaware, $207,933.32; in Erie, $265,073.17; in Lackawanna $469,548.04; in Lancaster, $261,311.18; in Luzerne, $387,575.30; in Montgomery, $302,906.17; in Northampton $211,659.58; in Schuylkill, $306,467.76; in Westmoreland, $257,166.49. In no other county has the amount exceeded $200,000. The county reporting the smallest amount was Fulton, $4,805.05. Last year the amount expended by this county for the education of the youth was $6,257.28. The annual appropriation, under existing laws, from the State Treasury, for the support of the common schools, is, as before indicated $5,500,000, which added to the $12,848,923.58 collected locally makes $18,348,923.58, as representing the cost of supporting the schools for the year covered by this report. Last year the amount was $16,704,999.86. Of all the commentaries that can be made upon the grandeur of the Keystone State, none more completely illustrates the real worth of the State than the large expenditure made for the advancement of educational interests.

TAXES COLLECTED FOR OTHER PURPOSES THAN THE SUPPORT OF THE POOR, CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIRS OF STREETS, ROADS AND BRIDGES, AND THE SUPPORT OF THE COMMON SCHOOLS.

The expenses of supporting the township, borough, city and county governments are not included under the headings heretofore given. With the taxes collected for these purposes is also included under this heading the license fees charged for the granting of liquor and peddlers' licenses. The amount collected during the year was $25,597,499.19. Of this amount $11,047,204.79 was collected in the county of Philadelphia, and $6,661,384.88 in the county of Allegheny. The amounts so collected appear in colum No. 4 of the detailed report of the county commissioners and column No. 4 of the consolidated tabulations. In studying these figures it must be remembered that the amounts so collected do not embrace any collections except those which are received from the general levy on all the properties within the assessment district. In the pavement of streets, construction of sewers and macadamizing of roads the expense is usually defrayed by an assessment on abutting property by the foot front, and the money so derived is not the result of a general assessment of property within any assessment district, and none of the amounts so received are embraced within the figures showing the total amount of taxes collected for the support of county, city, borough or township governments. In the consolidated table it will be found that the total amount of taxes and licenses collected for all purposes during the year was $50,315,870.81. Last year the amount was $49,273,793.30. Of the amount collected during the year covered by this report, $17,080,555.41 was collected in the city of Philadelphia, and $9,988,653.62 in the county of Allegheny. Two other counties report collections of over a million dollars; Berks, $1,217,988.37, and Lackawanna, $1,226,012.87. Lancaster reports $960,873.67, Luzerne $914,963.81 and Montgomery $901,899.78.

TAXES COLLECTED ON PERSONAL PROPERTY.

In column six of both the detailed and consolidated tables will be found the amounts returned as collected on personal property during the year. The amount was $3,427,385.63. Last year the amount was $2,965,548.08. This amount, however, is embraced in the total amount of taxes collected through local channels and is only given here separately for the reason that the act of 1889 requires the collection of data to show the total amount of taxes assessed and collected and paid on personal property. A similar observation may be made with reference to the taxes collected on licenses, on the real estate of railway corporations and on the real estate of corporations other than railways.

TAXES COLLECTED ON OCCUPATIONS.

The enforcement of the collection of taxes on occupations is not as generally made in the Commonwealth as it ought to be. If a careful investigation were to be made it would be found that in many of the assessment districts and probably in every county of the State there are many cases where the occupation tax is not paid. It is true that there is need of more stringent legislation with reference to the collection of this tax, if it is the intent of the legislative branch of the government to insist upon the collection of this tax. The amount of occupation tax reported for the year is $1,934,982.05, as against $1,274,543.92 last year. In some of the counties no return is made of the occupation taxes collected. Among these are Philadelphia and Dauphin.

TAXES COLLECTED ON LICENSES.

The returns for the year show $5,779,153.96 collected as the result of the granting of licenses. Last year the amount was $5,107,577.41. This shows an increase of over half a million of dollars.

TAXES COLLECTED ON REAL ESTATE OF RAILWAY CORPORATIONS.

As has been heretofore observed, corporations pay little in the way of local taxes. The railway companies, for instance, only pay local taxes upon such property as they may own in the assessment districts of the Commonwealth which is not necessary in carrying out the purposes for which the corporations were created. A railway company must have its right of way, its station for the accommodation of patrons, its depot for the storage of the commodities seeking shipment over its lines and the commodities received. It must have its terminal facilities, machine shops, round house. These are all essential in conducting its business and in conserving the convenience and best interests of its patrons; but if the corporation own other property not essential for the legitimate operation of its line or the conducting of its business, such property is subject to local taxation and is so declared by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. The taxes therefore collected from the real estate of railway corporations through local channels are insignificant compared with the amount paid directly into the State Treasury through the taxes levied by law upon the assessed valuation of capital stock, par value of bonded indebtedness and the gross receipts. In two or three of the counties of the Commonwealth there are local laws which to some extent require railway companies to pay a local tax on some of the real estate, the ownership of which seems essential to the corporation in conducting its business. In the counties of Philadelphia and Allegheny such a law exists and a large amount therefore of the taxes collected from the real estate of railway corporations, as shown by the returns, originates in these two counties. Last year the total amount collected was $813,197.02. This year the amount has fallen to $757,593.48. Some well meaning, but ill informed people, have assumed that corporations of the kind referred to were not bearing their fair share of the burdens of public taxation. They hold this opinion because they think that the amount collected through the local channels is all the tax such corporations pay. If an examination be made of the amounts paid into the State Treasury by these corporations, it will be found that the amounts paid locally is a very insignificant portion of the total amount. It will also be observed that while railways and other corporations pay an insignificant amount locally, the major part being paid into the State Treasury, yet out of the moneys paid into the treasury there are millions of dollars that go to the maintenance of local governments, the support of the common schools and for other local purposes. So that although these corporations may not pay much in the way of taxes through the local means of taxation, yet millions that they do pay go to the relief of local taxation.

TAXES COLLECTED ON REAL ESTATE OF CORPORATIONS OTHER THAN RAILWAYS, INCLUDING LIMITED PARTNER- SHIPS.

Under this heading the amount collected last year was $2,581,656.25. This year it is $2,501,423.60. This amount includes the taxes collected on the real estate of manufacturing and other corporations, including limited partnerships, which is paid through the local channels of taxation. These corporations are also required to pay a tax into the State Treasury. If, however, such corporations are manufacturing corporations, they are not required to pay any tax on the assessed valuation of the capital stock, but are required to pay the four mill tax upon any bonded indebtedness which they have outstanding.

PER CAPITA AMOUNT OF TAXES COLLECTED IN THE SEVERAL COUNTIES OF THE COMMONWEALTH.

Following the consolidated tables showing the taxes collected for the purposes indicated in each of the counties of the Commonwealth will be found a consolidated table showing,

1. The per capita amount of taxes collected for the support of the poor.

2. The per capita amount of taxes collected for the construction and repair of streets, roads and bridges.

3. The per capita amount of taxes collected for the support of the common schools, not including any appropriation received from the State.

4. The per capita amount of taxes collected for other purposes, including maintenance of county and other local governments.

5. The per capita amount of taxes collected for all purposes.

These consolidated tables will be of interest as they show at a glance the per capita tax in each county of the Commonwealth. The per capita being based upon the population of the State as returned by the census of 1890 is somewhat misleading, a few of the counties no doubt having suffered a decrease in the population since the census was taken, and others having had an increase, and to the extent of the disparities, with reference to increase or decrease in the population of the several counties in the Commonwealth, the per capita data found in the tabulation referred to will be erroneous. Last year it was found that the per capita amount collected for the support of the poor was 46 cents. This year the amount is 47 cents. However, if the total population of the State were exactly known, or the increase could be determined between this year and the preceding year, it might not be found that there was any actual increase in the per capita amount of money collected for this purpose. In the county of Centre the total per capita collected was 89 cents, in Potter 81 cents, in Elk 85 cents, in Montour 63 cents, in Northumberland, 85 cents, in Columbia 88 cents and in Union 62 cents. The lowest amount was in Bucks, 17 cents. The amount collected in this county last year was the same.

In column 2 of the per capita consolidated table will be found the per capita amount collected for the construction and repairs of streets, roads and bridges, $1.79. Last year the amount was $1.87. Sullivan county reports the largest amount, $6.23. In Philadelphia the amount was $1.47. In column 3 of the consolidated table will be found the per capita amount collected for the support of the common schools. In the entire State the per capita was $2.45; in the county of Philadelphia, $3.81; in Allegheny, $2.92; in Erie, $3.08; in Venango, $2.33; in Forest, $3.14; in Lackawanna, $3.30; in Sullivan,

$3.69. The highest per capita was in the county of Philadelphia and the next highest in the county of Sullivan. For the maintenance of township, borough, city and county governments, and from other forms of taxes, such as licenses, it is found that in the entire State the per capita is $4.85. In the county of Allegheny it is $12.07 and in the county of Philadelphia $10.55. Those who are of the opinion that the per capita tax is largest in the rural districts will not find corroborative evidence in these returns, for it will be seen in column 4 of the per capita consolidated table that the tax is greatest in those counties wherein there are large cities. The total amount of tax collected in the State, as before stated, was $50,315,870.81, which, based upon the last census amounts to a per capita of $9.56. The highest per capita amount is reported in the county of Allegheny, $18.09. Philadelphia reports $16.32, Blair $11.91, Sullivan $11.76. It is rather remarkable that so extremely rural a county as Sullivan should have so heavy a per capita tax for all purposes.. In the county of Sullivan and other undeveloped counties the population is small, but the acreage is large, and wild lands are owned by a few individuals or corporations in many cases non-residents. This condition results in the high per capita under the several classifications. A part of the per capita consolidated table is devoted to the percentages of taxes paid for the purposes specified. These percentages are arranged as follows:

1. Percentage of amount of taxes collected for the support of the poor to the total amount of taxes collected.

2. Percentage of amount of taxes collected for the construction and repairs of streets, roads and bridges to the total amount of taxes collected.

3. Percentage of amount of taxes collected for the support of the common schools, not including appropriations received from the State, to the total amount of taxes collected.

4. Percentage of amount of taxes collected for the maintenance of township, borough, city and county governments, including licenses, to the total amount of taxes collected for all purposes.

Of the total amount of taxes collected in the State 5 per cent. is devoted to the support of the poor, 19 per cent. to the construction and repairs of streets, roads and bridges, 25 per cent to the support of the common schools, and 51 per cent. to the support of township, borough, city and county governments. The county paying the largest percentage of taxes for the support of the poor was Centre, where the percentage was 17. That is, in the county of Centre, of the total amount of taxes collected, 17 per cent. was collected for the support of the poor. Of the total amount collected in Union and Snyder, 16 per cent. was devoted to this purpose. The counties of Allegheny, Bucks, Montgomery and Philadelphia devoted but 3 per cent.

to this purpose. For the construction and repairs of streets, roads and bridges, Bradford county appropriates 35 per cent. of its total collections, Beaver 38 per cent., Adams 32 per cent., Clearfield 37 per cent., Greene 38 per cent., Mercer 37 per cent., Montgomery 46 per cent., Sullivan 53 per cent., and Warren 38 per cent. Among the counties whose percentage of collections for this purpose is low is Allegheny 14 per cent., Blair 14 per cent., Erie 13 per cent., Lackawanna 7 per cent., Lehigh 10 per cent., Northumberland 8 per cent., Philadelphia 9 per cent. The same consolidated table gives the percentage in each county of the total amount of taxes devoted to the support of the common schools. Among the counties that pay a large percentage are Butler 34 per cent., Chester 38 per cent., Clearfield 35 per cent., Delaware 38 per cent., Montgomery 44 per cent., Warren 35 per cent., and Westmoreland 36 per cent. The counties that pay a small percentage are Allegheny 16 per cent., Fulton 16 per cent., Juniata and Snyder 16 per cent. It will be of interest to compare these per capita amounts and these percentages with the returns made for the last year—the first time such tabulations were made. They will disclose perhaps satisfactory proof as to the relative amount of taxes both on the basis of per capita and percentages which are collected in the several counties of the Commonwealth. It is indeed an important subject, for however small an amount of money a citizen pays for the support of his government, and even for the support of the common schools, it is a hard but truthful commentary to make that it is frequently paid with some reluctance, and if there is any suspicion that a neighbor or other citizen similarly situated is paying a less amount of taxes in proportion to the amount of property owned, or a less percentage for a certain purpose, the government, in the opinion of that person, has failed to render equal justice, and in this he is right. It is probable that the system of taxation, according to the enactments of the Legislature of Pennsylvania, is as equitable a one as has yet been devised, and the failures that are encountered and the inequalities that exist are attributable in most part to the faulty execution of the laws rather than to any defects in the enactments themselves. Therefore, it follows that the wrongs that exist, if such wrongs do exist, are due to a failure on the part of the people to execute with fidelity the duties imposed upon the officers chosen by the people to carry out the laws.

The occupation tax, which is known in Lancaster as poll tax, aggregates $8,813.75. The custom for many years has been to assess each married man not a freeholder, 25 cents poll or occupation tax, and each single man not a freeholder 50 cents poll or occupation tax. This tax is levied directly, without putting a valuation on the taxpayer's office, trade or occupation, and is not included in the above aggregate of county tax.
